Recognizing the dramatic changes in today's integrated Telecommunications market and the clear need for a new kind of summit that fully reflects the industry's continuing evolution, Katia Tayar CEO of Arabcomgroup organizer of Arabcom, announced today her plans for ARABCOM 06, a revolutionary industry conference and exhibition that will bring together players of the digital age.

Katia Tayar CEO of Arabcomgroup organizer of Arabcom

The Summit presentations and discussions will focus on: Fixed Mobile Convergence, NGN, HSPA, IPTV, WiMax Versus HSDPA, Tripple Play, Security and Mobile content

Several Arab Ministers of Telecom and many Operators have already confirmed their participation in addition to more than 300 International delegates. The list of keynote speakers reads like a who's who of communications industry insiders, including Telecom Ministers, CEOs from top GSM operators, wireline carriers, wireless providers, equipment manufacturers, content providers and policymakers.

Delegates will hear for the 1st time Ministers and Operators CEO discussing their future plans and vision concerning the Next Generation Networks deployment and new services.

'Consumers in the Arab region are beginning to experience the true capabilities of 3G wireless services. However, as consumers' appetite for a broad range of high-speed data services accelerates, so too does demand for bandwidth, and already the limitations of today's available networks' capabilities is being questioned '

'ARABCOM 06' will be a unique and exciting forum showcasing the services, technologies and products that will define business success in the digital age'

'ARABCOM 06' is the only event where representatives from every segment of the industry will come together to buy the latest technologies, talk about the future, explore new opportunities and establish new relationships,' Anyone who needs to know where the communications industry is headed can't afford to miss this event.' said Tayar.
